Company Departments

Remember how collaboration is one of PPI's core values? Though you will likely work mostly with your own department, various departments communicate regularly and collaborate to create world-class solutions and products for our customers.

Take a moment to orient yourself to various teams and what they do. You'll be working with many (if not all) of them at some point! Just click on each of the department buttons to see what it does, as well as who the department leader is for each team.
